Land Acknowledgment

The Riverside University Health System – Public Health, Health Equity program acknowledges the traditional, ancestral, and contemporary homelands of the Indigenous Peoples of Riverside County whose land we occupy. The Iviatem (Cahuilla), Payómkawichum (Luiseño), Maara'yam (Serrano), Nuwuvi (Chemehuevi), and Tongva (Gabrieleño) peoples have been the caretakers of this land, water, and air since time immemorial.

Indigenous Peoples have been forcefully displaced or relocated and colonization is ongoing with their lands still occupied due to the dishonest illusion of promised treaties. The Health Equity program commits to practicing cultural humility and reciprocity, respecting, and supporting the tribal sovereignty, culture, and beliefs of Indigenous Peoples of Riverside County and beyond.

We hope to build an honest, ongoing relationship with Indigenous Peoples in Riverside County as we learn from their vast experiences. We recognize that there have been past injustices and aim to move toward reconciliation with good intentions and respect. We challenge you to join us in this work. If you are unaware of whose land you are currently occupying, we encourage you to learn about the Indigenous Peoples in your area, their history and ongoing resilience.

WHAT WE KNOW ABOUT COVID-19 OMICRON VARIANT

The virus that causes COVID-19 is constantly changing, and new variants of the virus, like Omicron, are expected to occur.

Spread

Omicron will spread more easily than the original SARS-CoV-2. It is expected that anyone with Omicron infection can spread the virus to others, even if they are vaccinated or don't have symptoms.

Severe illness

More data are needed to know if infections, especially reinfections and breakthrough infections in vaccinated people, cause more severe illness or death than infection with other variants.

Vaccines

Current vaccines are expected to protect against severe illness, hospitalizations, and deaths. However, breakthrough infections in people who are fully vaccinated are likely to occur.

LEARN HOW YOU CAN STAY SAFE

Get Vaccinated

Vaccines remain the best public health measure to protect people from COVID-19, slow transmission, and reduce the likelihood of new variants emerging.

Wear a Mask

Masks offer protection against all variants. The CDC recommends wearing a mask in public indoor settings in areas of high community transmission, regardless of vaccination status.

Get Tested

Tests can tell you if you are currently infected with COVID-19. Visit your state or local health department's website to look for information on testing.

For more resources on COVID-19 vaccinations and testing, contact:

안전을 유지하는 방법

백신 접종

백신은 여전히 COVID-19 감염 예방, 전파 늦추기, 및 새로운 변이 출현 가능성을 줄이기 위한 최고의 공공보건 조치입니다.

마스크 착용

마스크는 변이 종류에 관계없이 보호 기능을 제공합니다. CDC는 예방 접종 여부에 관계없이 지역 사회 감염이 높은 지역의 실내 공공 장소에서 마스크를 착용할 것을 권장하고 있습니다.

검사

검사를 통해 현재의 COVID-19 감염 여부를 알 수 있습니다. 주 또는 지역 보건부의 웹사이트를 방문하여 검사 관련 정보를 확인하십시오.

Public Health for All

On September 17, 2025, California updated state law to ensure Californians have access to life-saving vaccines and screenings.

We want you to know there's a strong public health and medical community that'll continue to stand together to:

- Share the data and evidence people need to make healthy choices.
- Provide science-based recommendations.
- Protect our communities.

CDPH Respiratory Virus Dashboard

California COVID-19 Dashboard

The Respiratory Virus dashboard currently only shows COVID-19 data. Flu and RSV data will be added in the Fall season. For historical Flu and RSV data, see Previous Respiratory Virus Reports below.

This dashboard shows statewide and regional weekly data for COVID-19. This dashboard is a quick look at COVID-19 activity and severity for each week of surveillance and updates most Fridays. The data are reported early and may change in future updates as more information becomes available.

What to Know Now

COVID-19 activity is now slowing across CA. As we enter the fall respiratory virus season, it remains important to take steps to protect yourself and those around you from severe illness.
