Commitment to Community-Led Change

We know that right now there may be some uncertainty around the work many of us are deeply engaged in. Things can feel complicated or unclear at times, and it's understandable that some people might be asking: Is this still a priority? Is the RCHC still moving forward?

We can say proudly... yes, this work is still a priority.

The Riverside County Health Coalition has been instrumental in shaping how RUHS-Public Health responds to community for over a decade. While things may shift along the way—new tools, different approaches, new faces at the table—the overall commitment remains strong. This is a community-led initiative with deep support from RUHS-PH leadership.

Partnering with you—community leaders, members, and advocates—is central to how we work, how we make decisions, and how we show up for each other.

We know that real change doesn't happen in isolation—it happens through strong partnerships, shared leadership, and the deep wisdom and resilience already present in the communities we serve.

You all are not just stakeholders—you are co-creators in this work. Your strength, insight, wisdom, and advocacy are what keep us grounded and moving forward.

Thank you for continuing to show up, ask the hard questions, and keep the momentum going.

Together, we're building something that lasts.

Windblown ash particles may be too large to be detected by air quality instrumentation and not reflected in the Air Quality Index (AQI) map. However, they are typically visible to the naked eye either in the air or on outdoor surfaces. Although the AQI may show green, hazardous ash may be present in the air. If you smell smoke or see ash, please take precautions. See <https://www.aqmd.gov/smokesafety> for details.
